The Sagamore Club, Noblesville, IN

Dan Grogan, Golf Course Superintendent at The Sagamore Club in Noblesville, IN, is in the midst of a bunker renovation. On June 16, 2016, they experienced a major rain event. After the storm he noticed a drastic difference in the new bunker with Pro/Angle vs. the same bunker after a previous rain storm. A few days later another storm came through and another old bunker was turned into a swimming pool for his dog Maverick.

Bunker drainage and washouts after storms are problems golf course superintendents face from using inferior bunkers sands. Because of Pro/Angle's high infiltration rate due to the particle shape, flooded and washed out bunkers are a thing of the past. Pro/Angle helps the rainwater reach the bunker drainage system while staying in place. This helps superintendents manage maintenance costs and reduces the time necessary to have the course "ready for play" after rain events..

R.W. Sidley, Inc. Golf Outing

Last month R.W. Sidley, Inc. held a golf outing at the Painesville Country Club in Painesville, OH. The event was organized as a day to thank and show our gratitude to our customers for their patronage.

We had it all, beautiful course, enthusiastic golfers and fantastic weather, thanks to our Chief Meteorologist, Bob Sidley who came through again, and of course good food. Except for the occasional locust the day was perfect.

We extend our sincere appreciation for those that shared the day with us, thank you!
