Golf Industry Show Orlando, FL

The Golf Industry Show trade show is the game's premier learning and networking marketplace. No other single event attracts more key decision-makers for every aspect of the golf course and facility management industry under one roof.

Pro/ANGLE was on display at this years show in Orlando, FL, February 8-9. We welcomed many existing customers, contractors and architects.

We also had the pleasure of educating many industry professionals on the benefits of angular sand, the advantages of Pro/ANGLE over Clark Lemasters, Jr., is the Assistant Operations/Office Manager for J.P. Jenks, Inc. a wholly owned subsidiary of R.W. Sidley, Inc. located in Madison, OH. Clark started with Jenks in 2015.

Clark grew up in the area, Painesville Township to be exact and went to Madison Avenue School close to the Sidley's Painesville Builders Center. He used to visit the Builders Center with his father other sands, and why Pro/Angle is an important investment of their course.

Meeting fellow professionals and prospects from across the US, Canada and even overseas is a unique aspect to this particular show, some 6,000 buyers attend each year. Next years show in San Antonio, TX, will be another great opportunity to see our existing customers and associates, while exposing more golf industry professionals to the benefits of Pro/Angle Bunker Sand.

There is no sand like Pro/Angle and the Golf Industry Show is our opportunity to tell the world.
